

STONEGLASS®

STONEGLASS SRL is in the glass business from generations, starting from traditional glass to this new technological product that we have named STONEGLASS®.

STONEGLASS SRL is an Italian company that was founded in 2014 as an outshoot from an historical and family glass company located in Tuscany in Italy, as the result of a brilliant idea from its owner.

STONEGLASS SRL is a young and dynamic company that joins innovation and experience.

STONEGLASS SRL is an active and efficient company, above all thanks to the people who work there, each one of them with its own specialty. Their passion and knowledge are well bonded into the company's soul, and they give great fundamental for its progress.

A work force in continue evolution engraved by special technicalities, by the high quality of team-work skills and by the will to improve and innovate, our team is always on the edge trying to go across any limits through the experience and the will to meet any requirements of its customers.

We distribute our materials with STONEGLASS® Quality Check, highly certifying our product with a large variety of tests and bureaus.

We sell our STONEGLASS® material in every market, so both in interior and exterior, as for its highly resistant composition that guarantees to not be subjected at any alteration in time. You could really adopt STONEGLASS® solutions in cladding of any kind, any flooring, swimming pools, vanity, kitchens, and external facades as well.

STONEGLASS® is present in several projects around the world, focusing its attention mainly on Europe and the United States.

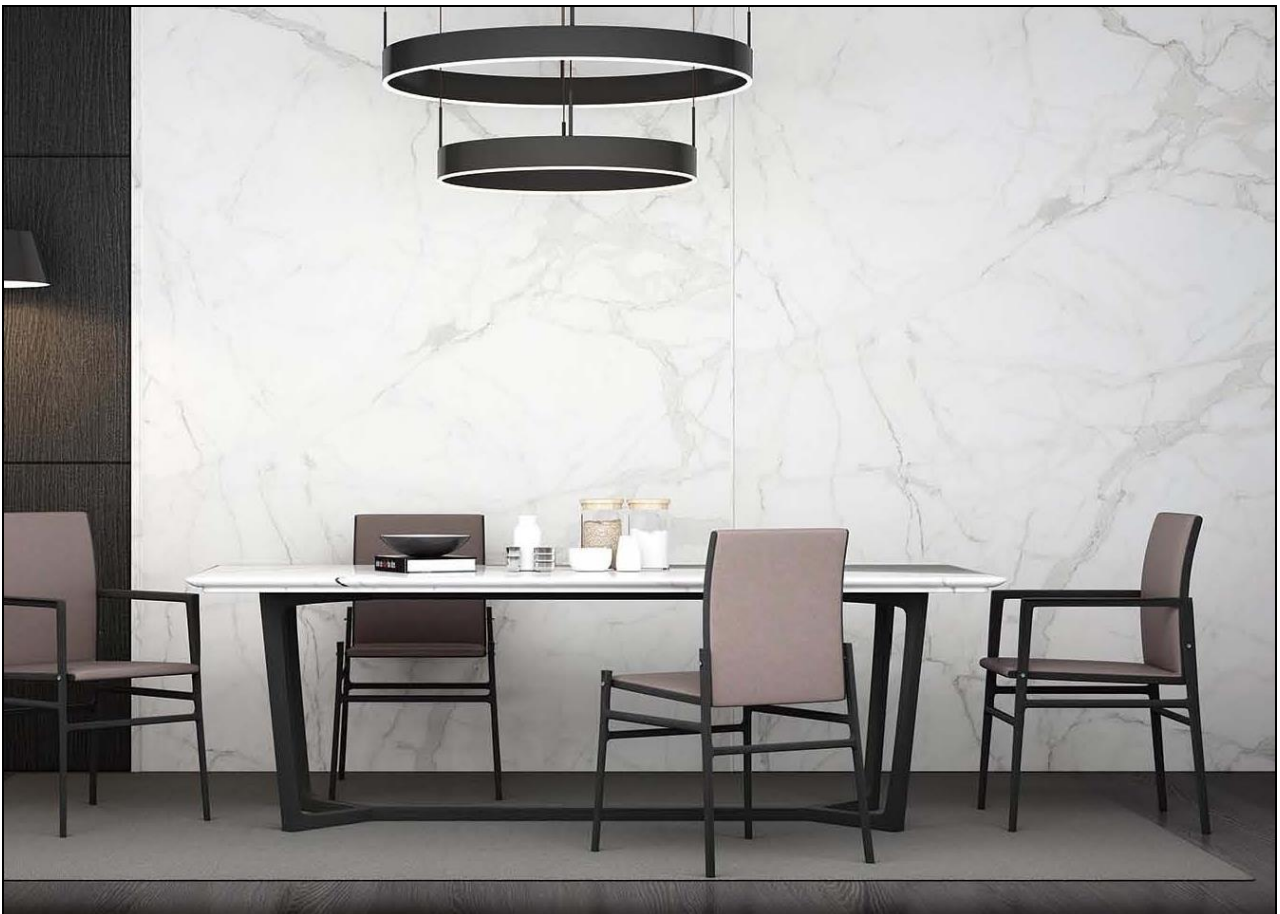

Our “mission” is to help designers and architects to realize their projects providing a beautiful and innovative material. A material that is unique. A material born from fusion of the peculiarities of glass with the characteristics of resistance and sturdiness of natural stones. A material that can be forged and transformed from a simple STONEGLASS® slab into a work of art.

Our “mission” is to provide the customer with a material with a unique color, with highest quality, practical and eternal that you can fall in love with, which you can trust because it was born from an Italian brand that combines elegance, charm and the original Made in Italy style.

Our “mission” is to produce a material that respects the environment where our children will have to grow up and that safeguards the well-being of those who works it.

“Our mission is to create a dream, and if you can dream it.. you can do it!”

STONEGLASS® has been created to satisfy many needs of today's material markets. Throughout history, man has always strived to discover, or manufacture, new materials based on three criteria: aesthetics, versatility, and availability. Today we live at a turning point. Now we must also consider an additional criterion: the environmental impact of our materials. STONEGLASS® is a new material that satisfies all four criteria.

STONEGLASS®

Going more into deep, our material is a glass with extra interesting features that let it be suitable for installations in both interior and exterior with practically no collateral effects, since it combines the durability of a resistant material such as granite with the surface peculiarity of not having open porosity such as to guarantee non-absorbency and resistance to all types of stains.

STONEGLASS® is a technical material and highly certified. We have approached the construction industry from the technical aspects, so you will find it at hand from an architectural point of view.

What is “STONEGLASS®” ??

STONEGLASS® is an innovative Italian Technology in Glass materials that is taking over the glass tile and slab market. While STONEGLASS® may appear to resemble similar glass materials already present in the market, it is in reality quite different as for multiple reasons.

STONEGLASS® is a full-body glass with closed-porosity which makes it a 360° usable product, highly certified that can be used anywhere, indoor & outdoor, as a floor or wall cladding of any kind, as kitchen counter-tops or vanity sinks, as well as in the yachting industry, in environments exposed to sunlight and sea/chlorinated water. It can be used poolside thanks to our bush-hammered finishes, or even as a cladding in buildings with vertical installations or ventilated facade systems and much more since it is highly durable and guaranteed without alteration over time.

The STONEGLASS® company is also fully equipped to provide fully MADE IN ITALY products for you or your clients and will support you whether you'd like to start processing it by yourself or like to start distributing it. Our headquarters are always open for you if you need to see our men at work processing the STONEGLASS® material or need information regarding our partners and way-of-use. We are willing to provide full support and transfer our know-how in processing the material and pointing you in the right direction at any time.

STONEGLASS® is not simply Black or White: STONEGLASS® product range is in constant evolution. Born in the more traditional version that sees it Polished, it has been then transformed into the Matt version, then Breeze finish, the new STONEGLASS® 3D line, and soon into much more.
